

Advantages and Disadvantages about Quaker Parrots

Let's start with the Advantages

- Quaker parrots also known as Monk Parrots and originate from South America
- They consist of beautiful colours ranging from green, blue, yellow and grey
- There is a lot of different opinions on the net about different genders having different abilities of talking. In most opinions it is said that males are better talkers but our opinion and experience is that there is no difference in the ability of talking.
- There is no difference between male and female whether it's with talking, personality or behaviour.
- Quakers will say many words, the best age to teach them is 6 months to 2 years. They will start talking when they are about 1 year old.
- Their life span is 15 to 20 years.
- Quakers are physically very strong, calm, and sociable and love human interaction.
- They are a very playful parrot, they love to fly around out of the cage and enjoy the swings.
- They bond very easily but to start off with they may be scared in their new environment but will settle very quickly and easily.
- They will settle very quickly into their new environment and surroundings and will not take much time to bond with its new owners as long as you allow them a few days to familiarise and settle. Every Quaker has a different temperament, some are shy and will take longer than others.
- The immune system of the Quakers is very strong and they don't fall ill very often.

Now we will go on to talk about the Disadvantages, but Quakers don't have many.

- Some of the Quakers temperament will be noisy, for the first couple of days until they settle. If they get too noisy for you, then just cover the cage or switch the light off and they will go quiet.
- Quakers have a small beak and the words that they do mimic, sometimes may not be clear.

What can cause HARM to the Quakers

Damp, smoke (cooking, cigarettes etc), air fresheners, scented candles or fragrance sticks.

PLEASE TAKE EXTRA CARE OF THE ABOVE POINTS FOR THE WELFARE OF YOUR QUAKER

www.birds4u.net